Robert F. Kennedy Says He Will Not Run For President

EDITORS NOTE—Because he's the President's brother, every word, every action of Robert F. Kennedy is subject to special scrutiny. In the following exclusive interview with Louis G. Panos, who covers the Justice Department for The Associated Press, Kennedy discusses his political future.

By LOUIS G. PANOS
WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert F. Kennedy looked out the window of his chauffeur-driven limousine and said he does not plan to run for president in 1968.

"Emphatically not," he said.

In his voice was a note of plainness, a plea that his answer be believed.

There was also the shrug of resignation from a man who, as attorney general and brother of the President, knows every word he utters for public print will be closely examined — by political opponents for campaign ammunition, by foreign diplomats for a hint of what the administration is really thinking, and by reporters who consider him the most valuable news source outside the White House itself.

TRYING TO DO GOOD JOB
This interview, held during a ride from a hotel speaking engagement to his Justice Department office, was one of a recent series given by the attorney general to The Associated Press in an attempt to answer these questions:

1. Is he being groomed to assume the presidency when John F. Kennedy leaves office?

2. How true are current Washington rumors that, in preparation for a run at the presidency, he will be named secretary of state, with Dean Rusk leaving that post to become ambassador to the United Nations and Adlai E. Stevenson being eased out of the administration?

3. How does he define the unusual role he plays in government affairs?

In brief, these are Robert Kennedy's answers:

1. The presidency: "Absolutely

Pakistan Plays Up To Red China

TOKYO (AP)—Pakistan's foreign minister, Z. A. Bhutto, has told the Red Chinese he feels the border agreement between Peking and Karachi will strengthen the cause of world peace.

Arriving in Peking amid cheers and drum beating, Bhutto said a lesson in harmony could be learned from the pact defining the border between Red China and the Pakistan-occupied part of disputed Kashmir.

The agreement brought protests from India, which is about to resume talks with Pakistan on the future of disputed Kashmir.

Top Post Office Job To Be Filled

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Service Commission announced today A. Conrad Finstrom and James E. Pryal are eligible for the Escanaba, Mich., postmastership.

Either may be nominated by President Kennedy, subject to Senate confirmation.

Pryal now is acting postmaster.

There were nine applicants for the $7,395-a-year job.

Pryal has served as acting postmaster since April 15, 1961. He was appointed to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Mrs. Gerald Cleary, who had held the office for many years.

Finstrom resides at 800 5th Ave. S. is employed in accounting, and was previously engaged in the mercantile business in Escanaba.

The usual procedure in the appointment of a postmaster is 1—Civil Service examination; 2—Recommendation by the state's senior senator, who is U. S. Senator Pat McNamara, Democrat; and 3—Appointment by the President with Senate confirmation.

Names of applicants who failed to place in the Civil Service test were not reported.

Daring Bobcat Invades City; Bites The Dust

The Ernest Bernier home at 1329 S. 23rd St. is near a brushy area that extends to the Escanaba airport. Occasionally a pheasant or a deer is seen in the area.

Shortly before 7:30 this morning the Berniers saw a large cat come out of the brush, cross the road, and approach their house. "Say, that's really a big cat," Bernier remarked to his wife. Doing a double-take he said, "It must be a bob cat! It doesn't have a tail."

Bernier, who likes to hunt, grabbed his shotgun and ran outside. He fired and the bob cat dropped. The animal was within about 40 feet of the Bernier home.

The Berniers are going to have photographs made of the trophy and send them along to their sons, James and Jerome, who are both in the U. S. Navy serving aboard the USS Shields. The sons have been in the Navy for two years.

Lying To Press Won't Work, Says Pierre Salinger

NEW YORK (AP)—White House press secretary Pierre Salinger says "I think I see my job, and the President sees my job, as getting out the information to the press—all the information we can within the limits of national security."

Salinger, who made the statement on a television program Wednesday night, also said "I think the news management story is a greatly overworked one."

He had been asked whether he consciously, for the President, managed news as an instrument of national policy.

Some critics of President Kennedy's administration have charged intentional and unnecessary control of much Washington news.

Salinger, a former newspaperman, said on the program: "I've always held to the theory that the news should go out as it happens, and in most cases that's exactly what we do."

At one point, Salinger said that unless a press secretary is prepared to tell newsmen the facts, "you just as soon not tell them anything."

He added: "That's got to be your posture. I think a press secretary who's caught lying to the press—his usefulness is soon worn out."

Library Pooling Favored But Aid Appears Distant

A bill to authorize reorganization of the state's public library system and to implement the reorganization with increased state aids has progressed from the Library Committee of the House in the Legislature to the Ways and Means Committee.

Current prospect, said Frank X. Scannell of Lansing, head of readers services for the State Library on a visit to the U. P. Branch today, is that the Legislature may pass the enabling legislation but not provide an appropriation to accompany it.

This would mean, he said, that while the state approved the new state plan for libraries, it was deferring implementation until a later time because of the financial stringency at Lansing, where Governor Romney has introduced a "hold the line" state budget.

The public libraries of the Upper Peninsula receive about $15,000 a year now under the state's present aid formula, which is on a basis of 5 cents plus per capita. This brings about $800 a year to the Carnegie Library in Escanaba and about $250 to the Gladstone Library.

The proposed reorganization plan embodied in House Bill 86 would provide total state aids for Upper Peninsula libraries of $120,000 a year from a state appropriation for this purpose of $2.5 million.

"We're quite pleased," said Scannell "with the attitude of the legislators toward the bill, but unhappy, of course, about the prospect of no new aid money now. Very few new systems could be initiated without the new aid."

Early discussion of the reorganization plan suggested that the Upper Peninsula might be divided into three library districts to

To Lose $13,000 In Tax Revenues

CRYSTAL FALLS — Financial problems facing the Crystal Falls school district because of one million dollar loss in mining property valuations for 1963 were discussed by the Crystal Falls board of education this week.

The drop in mine valuations will mean a drop in tax revenue to the school district of $13,000. K. W. Schulze, superintendent, told the board. Unless there is an increase in the non-mining company property valuations over the next two years, he said, it will be necessary for the school district to obtain $25,000 in taxes to make up the mining valuation losses.

Applications for the Selective Service college qualification test to be given April 18, 1963, are now available to college students at all Michigan local draft boards. The test will be given at 21 colleges and universities in Michigan. College students may obtain full information about the test from any Selective Service local board.

Applications for the test must be postmarked no later than midnight, Thursday, March 28. Eligible applicants must be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time college course leading to a degree and be a Selective Service registrant who intends to seek deferment as a student. Applicants can take the test only once.

Scores made on the test will provide local boards with evidence of aptitude for continued undergraduate and graduate study and serve as a guide to local boards in the deferment of individual registrants. Deferments may be granted by local boards for qualified students to enable them to finish both undergraduate and graduate degree programs.

Township Seeks Used Water Pipe

not by soliciting contributions, that is, though more money would make the job a great deal easier," he continued.

"The Water Board is presently looking to purchase about three miles of used 6-inch water main, a commodity, I might add, not frequently found or readily obtainable. If we must abandon the water system due to the failure of the mains to carry the load because of our inability to replace them, we won't be out of action a week before some well-meaning and would-be-helpful soul will approach us and say, 'Why didn't you say something? I know where there is a pile of 6-inch used water main as high as a house.'

"Before such circumstances come to pass, we are asking now

— if any amount of good used 6-inch water main is known to be available by anyone reading this communication, please inform me.

Your information will greatly bolster the determination of a militant community in its struggles to help itself and will be crowned with the everlasting thanks of a beleaguered Water Board," Corcoran said.

Kremlin Leaders Cowardly As Mice, Peking News Says

TOKYO (AP)—Red China dared the Soviet Union today to let Peking beam its side of the ideological dispute with Moscow to the rest of the Communist world.

Peking accused Moscow of jamming Red China's broadcasts to prevent Communist bloc countries from hearing Mao Tse-tung's side of the argument. It called the followers of Soviet Premier Khrushchev cowardly as mice.

The new propaganda barrage aimed at the Kremlin was distributed by the New China News Agency. It quoted from an article in Red Flag, theoretical journal of the Chinese Communist party.

Red Flag pointed out that the Chinese Communists last week had published the anti-Peking views of Khrushchev, The Communist party newspaper Pravda and the premier's French supporters in his quarrel with the Chinese.

"Cowardly as mice," Red Flag continued, "they are scared to death, they dare not let the people of their own countries see our articles for themselves and have endeavored to impose a water-tight embargo. They are even using a powerful station to jam our broadcasts to prevent people from listening."

Ferry service between DeTour and Drummond has been suspended since February 15 when ice made the ferry runs impossible.

Since that time the Coast Guard Ice Breaker Mackinaw has made three attempts to open the river channel. It freed the ferry from its DeTour dock, but was unable to clear an opening at the Drummond dock because of wind-driven ice. The Mackinaw made channel clearing attempts on Tuesday and Wednesday and it was not known if it would return for another pass.

Drummond Island Keeps Supplied By Ice Bridge

SAULT STE. MARIE — Although Drummond Island residents have only an ice bridge access to the mainland, they're still being supplied with fuel and food.

The ice bridge has been smoothed so that pickup trucks and other small delivery vehicles can transport fuel oil across the river to be re-loaded on regular transport vehicles kept on the Island side. Food deliveries are being handled in similar fashion.

Mental Program Praised By AMA

CHICAGO (AP)—The American Medical Association, which is firmly opposed to President Kennedy's proposed medical program for the elderly, spoke approvingly today of his mental health program.

The spokesman in this instance is Dr. Gerald D. Dorman of New York, an AMA trustee. His forum was the annual conference of State Mental Health Representatives.

Dr. Dorman said the Kennedy mental health program, announced Feb. 5, agrees with basic recommendations made by the AMA last summer.

He said both programs stress comprehensive care of mental patients at the community level rather than in big, distant state institutions.

"Community centers will supply what has been a missing link in the physician's responsibility for patients with emotional disorders," Dr. Dorman said.

Both the Kennedy administration and AMA proposals call for matching grants to the states from the federal government for building community mental health facilities.

Dr. Dorman said President Kennedy also proposes that services at the community centers be financed in the same manner as other medical and hospital costs—individual fees, private insurance, voluntary contributions and state and local aid.

Law Against Litter

Newton Dilley, chairman of the Anti-Litter Committee of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs has addressed to members of the Michigan Legislature a letter explaining why the state needs a new litter law.

Litter is an evidence of the public regard for its environment, and psychologists would no doubt tell us laymen that it is significant of thought process. The man who doesn't mind living in filth isn't to be expected to be an esthetic or intellectual. Even man living in a state of savagery, although he kept some rather messy habits, moved his teepee at times. And the Indians who lived in the Upper Peninsula before the coming of the White Man had refuse pits. They might bury grandpa under the wigwam where they were living, but they did have place for refuse disposal.

This is not a standard today and we have hundreds of persons—and sometimes it seems like thousands—who toss trash like beer cans and candybar wrappers and pop bottles out of automobile windows onto the highway. And the public is the composite of all the people, so that a few bad apples give a character to the whole barrel.

But the good apples can make it unpleasant for the bad apples to litter the highways and the landscape of the state, so that the enjoyment of the many is marred. They can bring the weight of public displeasure to bear on the litterers and they can enact laws for their punishment. This is not the best way to do it, it would be much better to have education prevail and have people stop littering because litter was abhorrent, but our system of freedoms permits people to misbehave, subject to penalties.

Litter Chairman Dilley told the legislators that Michigan is far behind most of the other states in attacking with legislation the increasingly expensive and growing menace of litter. The "Water Wonderland," he said, which counts upon tourist industry as its second most important source of income, is acknowledged by enforcement officials to be in great need of a complete revision and overhaul of the present laws for prevention and control of litter.

The present laws are in various unrelated and widely separated sections of the statutes. What is suggested and needed is a separate and complete anti-litter law dealing only with the problem of litter and repeal of the present ineffective laws. Present laws deal with the highways themselves and not the highway-right-of-way. They don't cover parks, forests or other public property or property in which the public has an interest; don't include public fishing and camping sites and the shores of lakes and streams.

Present laws specify the items of refuse such as "glass, nails, tacks, etc." which persons are prohibited from throwing upon the highways, so that anything not specifically mentioned in the statute is not covered by it. The generic term "litter" would cover all offensive material of every kind. One of the present laws requires that the item thrown on the highway must be likely to injure any persons, animal or vehicle upon the highway. Garbage, which might be much more offensive, isn't included because it wouldn't injure, only offend.

One of the present laws requires that the prosecutor prove that the offender intended to permit the rubbish to remain on the highway, a nearly impossible burden of proof.

The present laws make it virtually impossible to prosecute where litter is thrown from a moving vehicle because the actual offender must be picked out of the group in the car. Present laws carry a minimum penalty of only $5, which is not only insignificant as punishment, but ineffective as education.

For lack of better laws Michigan taxpayers spend $1,000 every day of the year to clean up litter just on the highways of the state. We need a new law and a new outlook and obviously we need the new outlook even more than the new law.

The Doctor Says:

Rib Muscles Involved

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

Q — I have been having sharp pains in my left breast and side. The amount of caffeine in a cup of coffee depends on how strong the coffee is, and this is extremely variable. One cup at each of the three main meals should not be harmful to a person in good health. But most coffee drinkers take much more than that.

The disadvantage of coffee drinking is that it causes a person to become dependent on it, and if your doctor wants to give you a prescription containing caffeine as a stimulant it will not have the effectiveness that it would have in a person who is not a regular coffee drinker.

Q — I have very brittle nails. They are always cracking and splitting. Although I don't bite them, they never grow long enough to file and they are always catching on things. Is there anything I can do?

A — There are several possible causes of brittle nails. These include excessive manicuring, reaction to such preparations as fingernail lacquer, prolonged soaking in detergent solutions, and thyroid disease.

The treatment in such cases would be to remove the cause but in many persons the cause cannot be found. The condition appears to increase with age. In some persons vitamins A and D bring about some improvement. Your family doctor or a skin specialist should be able to put you on the right path.

Q — About four months ago I got a severe pain in my right eye. X-rays of head, examination by a nose and throat specialist and by an eye specialist failed to reveal any cause. I still have the pain. What could cause it and what kind of doctor should I see?

A — Since the common causes of pain in the eye are to be found in the eye or nasal sinuses and since apparently these have been ruled out I would suggest that you consult a neurologist as he would be interested in all types of pain.

BOUNTY QUESTION

The great power of the Press is again being used to influence the thinking of the sportsmen in urging the removal of the bounty system.

Almost every day an article written by some conservation "expert" appears in the Press condemning the "wasteful, costly" system.

They contend that the savings from the removal of bounties would be used for more hunting and fishing areas, etc.

Almost certainly it would be used to raise the salaries of these same "experts," resulting in a saving of what?

These conservation biologists, etc., would have us believe that bounties serve no purpose in controlling the number of predators. Disease and starvation, they say, would soon bring a natural decline in their population. That is nature's way of check and balance in the wildlife.

This, of course, is true in the wilderness where man is not in competition with the predators. Without control, predators would soon increase to great numbers, causing serious damage to our small game and deer, until their scarcity would finally cause a decrease in the numbers of the predators themselves.

This is nature's way, a constant fluctuation of game and animal species.

Do we sportsmen want fat or famine? Game in one decade and none the next? We are in competition with predators. Any rabbit, grouse or deer that a coyote kills is one less for the hunter.

Last spring conservationists raised a hue and cry over people who allowed their dogs to run at large and kill poor defenseless deer in the deep snows. Are we then to assume that coyotes who live year round in the woods cannot kill deer?

Of course they do, and not just sickly, half-starved ones, either.

I think that the Conservation Department could find some better way to save money.

Perhaps the tremendously costly practice of planting legal-size trout would be one way. But, I suppose the tourists like to catch hatchery trout, even if I don't. W. M. Laurila Limestone

Lundgren Asks $100,000 State Fund For Armory

State Senator Kent T. Lundgren introduced in the Michigan Legislature Feb. 26 a bill to appropriate $100,000 as the state's share of cost of a new National Guard Armory to be built in Gladstone.

"This armory will be a real asset to the community and certainly will help the matter of a new and much-needed community center," said Senator Lundgren.

His bill would appropriate from the state general fund for plans and new construction for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1964 the sum of $100,000 "or as much thereto as may be necessary" to finance the state's share of the proposed armory construction.

The bill states that the state administrative board shall not approve release of the appropriation until the Department of Administration certifies the plans, specifications, contracts and other expenditures and that the military establishment shall not make any commitment for the project until after release of the appropriation.

The board may approve the release of a part of the appropriation for planning or bidding documents or for investigations necessary to determine whether or not the project can be accomplished within the available funds.

The bill states: "It is intended that the appropriation shall include, where applicable, such costs as those for the general architectural trades, plumbing, heating, ventilating, lighting, wiring, fixtures, equipment, utilities, furniture, furnishings, grading, planting, walks, roads, professional services, surveys and tests and on-site supervision for a complete project ready for use."

"The appropriation shall be charged with any labor performed by employees of the military establishment."

"All unexpended balance of the appropriation shall not revert to the general fund at the close of the fiscal year, but shall continue until the purposes for which the same were appropriated have been completed, but if such construction is not completed by June 30, 1967, the unexpired balance shall revert to the general fund."

"It is the legislative intent that this sum will constitute the entire appropriation at any time for such construction and that if the cost of construction exceeds this sum, the excess shall be paid from federal funds or other outside sources."

"The state administrative board is authorized to take such steps as may be necessary to make federal funds available for the purpose for which appropriations are made in this act and to use any part or all of the appropriation to meet matching requirements of the federal government, which in the judgment of the board are in the best interests of the state."

The Gladstone Armory would house its Co. C, 107th Engineer Battalion of the Michigan National Guard and also would provide for civic functions and school activities.

The formula for financing armories is 50 per cent federal money, 25 per cent state money and 25 per cent local money, so the proposed state appropriation would set up a $200,000 federal appropriation and require local participation to the amount of $100,000 to furnish the estimated $400,000 cost of the armory.

Business Volume Up At Cedarcraft; Foresee Big Year

While many firms in the county area are experiencing seasonal layoffs, Northern Cedarcraft Products Inc., located in Gladstone's Industrial Park is operating full swing.

G. H. Casey, secretary-treasurer of the firm and manager of the Gladstone plant, said that at the present time there are 70 persons employed in the plant and post yard. The volume of business during the past two-month period is about 25 per cent higher than one year ago.

The firm, which makes rail, picket and stockade-type fencing, expects to use up about 800,000 posts during their season this year. This also includes knocked-down fencing, individual pickets in bundles.

Six diesel trucks (each one carries about 36,000 pounds of fencing) make six trips each during a month's time traveling about 1,

Lake Lamprey Population Cut

There is now concrete evidence of the possibility that the lamprey population of Lake Superior can be controlled, reports the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries. This encouraging information was contained in a report released on Jan. 4, at the annual meeting in Ottawa of the Fisheries Research Board of Canada. The report also pointed out that the predator, which has played havoc with the valuable fish stocks of the Great Lakes, can only be checked fully through a stepped-up control program.

The report, presented by the Board's London, Ont., Biological Station, noted that the lamprey population in Lake Superior has been reduced greatly. This was indicated by lamprey counts taken in 1962 at electrical barriers placed on streams tributary to the lake. The barriers prevent the adult lamprey from ascending the streams to spawn.

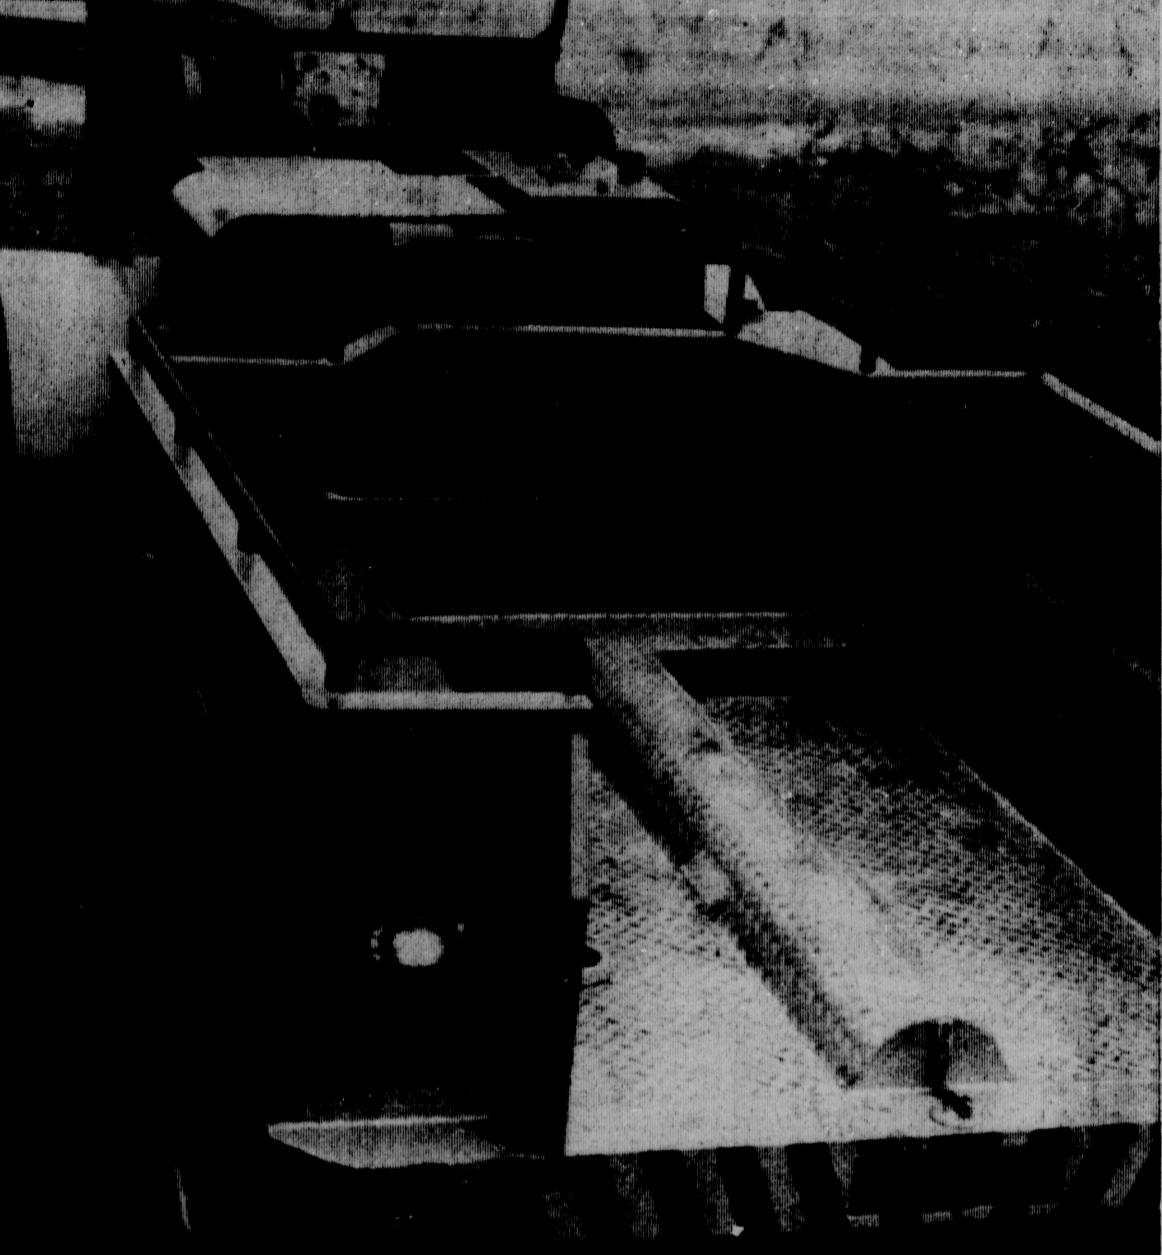

The Board is responsible for much of Canada's share of the scientific investigations of the lamprey problem, under an agreement with the Great Lakes Fishery Commission (Canada and United States).

The smaller numbers of lamprey found in the lake in 1962 are due undoubtedly to the scientifically developed control measures employed, the report stated. At the present time a lampicide, a specific toxicant, is used against the predators while they are in the larval stage, during which most of them live in burrows in the beds of streams where they are hatched.

The electrical barriers also may have contributed to the reduced populations. Although a small number of lamprey have managed to slip by the barriers and reached upstream spawning grounds, nevertheless there can be little doubt that they have prevented the major part of recent runs from spawning.

Despite the progress that scientists have made in unravelling the lamprey problem, there is still a great need for biological knowledge concerning its characteristics and life-history. Consideration must be given also to the matter of lamprey larvae populations in Lake Superior itself. The larvae, always thought of in the past as stream dwellers only, were found in fairly substantial numbers in the open Lake between 1960 and 1962. Although it is impossible to estimate their numbers, the report suggests that they constitute enough of a menace to fish stocks to warrant being included in lamprey control plans.

Mighty Marinette Pine To Be Felled

MENOMINEE—A tree which until recently held the title of the largest Norway pine in the country will crash to earth in Marinette County.

The aged Norway, sometimes known as red pine, stands on the east shore of Sand Lake in Marinette county's Camp Bird. Its location on the windward side of the lake helped it survive the 1871 Peshtigo fire. It is estimated to be more than 200 years old.

The tree, which has been dying, was measured in 1952 by the state conservation department as having a circumference of 8 feet 10 inches at "breast height," four and one-half feet from the ground. It measured 98 feet high and had an average crown spread of 34 feet.

When it appeared necessary to find another record tree, one was located in the Brule River state forest with the same circumference but 124.7 feet high and with a 32.9 foot crown.

The stump of the Marinette County tree will hold a privileged position in the camp, according to county forester Jack Saemann. A section of the trunk will go to the county historical society museum on Stephenson island here.

The tree is a survivor of virgin timber that once covered 200,000 acres of the county.

Pasture Pays For Development

By J. L. HEIRMAN

While the snow is still on the ground and the cattle contented on dry feed in the barn, we might study our pasture program for next summer. The cheapest milk can be produced on pasture as compared to dry feeding in the barn. We, however, fail to provide enough pasture which in turn limits milk production.

Some folks fail to provide any pasture at all and wonder why they have little milk production from the herd that roams the farm woodlot. Feed in a woodlot is always scarce and before they find enough they have used up all the energy hunting for this feed. They usually end up breaking through fences and get into grain fields. This too is not profitable.

Pastures are usually found on the poorest soil of the farm, because pasture is not thought of as a cash crop. Some of the best returns per acre can come from good pastures grazed by high producing cows.

In developing a pasture program one should try and get as many days of grazing as possible. Start off in the spring with some rye planted the fall before. This can provide several days of pasture and give the permanent legume pasture a chance to get a good start. The rye patch can be worked up late in May or early June and planted to corn or potatoes. The legume pasture can then take over if it has proper fertility for a couple of months—June and July. By this time you should have some help from regrowth hay fields or possibly some summer crop such as millet. As soon as possible in August one should plant some rye for fall pasture in order to reduce grazing legumes in September. This is the time of year when this crop stores up food and if grazed too heavily it will weaken the plants and even kill them out during the winter. The rye can be grazed in late fall and then used again in the spring.

This seems like plenty of work to provide a pasture but it will bring returns in increased milk production income.

Stambaugh School Board Backs Bond Issue For $700,000

STAMBAUGH — The Stambaugh township board of education has voted complete support of the Citizens committee, which has advocated a $700,000 bond issue and consolidation of all district schools on the Stambaugh campus.

Action of the board in supporting the citizens committee does not constitute placing the matter on the ballot, however. In effect, the board pledges support to the direction being taken by the special committee in attempting to solve the district's building and accreditation problems.

The citizens committee was established after a number of mass meetings which followed the January defeat of a $450,000 bond issue request.

The committee has recommended that all schools of the district be consolidated on the Stambaugh campus. That would mean construction of an addition to the present new elementary school, and the closing of the Caspian and Gaaster school buildings.

Committee recommendations also include reconstruction of the high school to meet requirements of the State Fire Marshal and the Board of Accreditation of the University of Michigan.

Alcoholic's Friend May Prove Enemy, Says Psychiatrist

ANN ARBOR—The alcoholic's best friend unwittingly may be his worst enemy, says a psychiatrist from the University of Michigan Medical Center.

This paradox usually occurs when the husband or wife of the alcoholic tries desperate measures to end the partner's drinking.

"Contrary to his conscious wish," says Dr. Robert A. Moore, "the spouse may actually act in ways which promote, rather than discourage, continued drinking."

This includes providing liquor to keep the alcoholic home for his drinking, or conversely, pouring the whisky down the drain, so enraged him that he heads for the nearest bar on a drinking spree.

Often the partner feels that threats of divorce or separation will force the alcoholic into treatment. Such bluffs are seldom successful, in Dr. Moore's opinion, and may make future rehabilitation more difficult.

"If the alcoholic suffers the loss of family ties, the hope for recovery may be diminished. The victim may think the bottle is his only remaining source of gratification."

The U-M psychiatrist says the family should assist in pointing the alcoholic in the right direction toward treatment without bluffs, but with realistic concern and insistence. In some cases, aid from employers and even court action is required to provide necessary help.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP)—

Ships coming out of Newport News, from Polaris submarines to Japanese merchantmen, are linked by at least one thing in common.

It began a few years ago when the States Steamship Lines specified that the captains' quarters of four passenger-cargo vessels under construction here be supplied with Bibles.

"Knowing I was a Gideon, one of the company officials referred the States Lines' request to me," said R. R. Stall, supervisor in the hull design training department of the Newport News Ship Building and Drydock Co.

Deluxe editions were provided for the captains' quarters and hotel copies were put in the 12 passenger staterooms of each ship. Stall said that States Lines now advertises, "Gideon Bible in each stateroom."

No Need Seen For Dunes Park

By the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries

GLEN ARBOR (AP)—Opponents of plans to create a national recreation area in the Sleeping Bear Dunes region claim no one has demonstrated a need for a federal park in the area.

The development was contained today in a statement of policy by the executive board of the Sleeping Bear Dunes Citizens' Council and the Platte Lakes Area Association. Both represent property owners in the Benzie - Leelanau County resort area.

The statement covers park bills introduced by Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., and by Rep. Robert Griffin, R-Mich.

The board indicated it preferred the Griffin bill over that introduced by Hart but did not endorse either.

Board members claim Hart's bill still contains features held objectionable chiefly on grounds that "certain property rights would be restricted without just compensation."

Lake Michigan Tested By Trawls

the above catches were 20 to 35 fathoms in November and 25 to 40 fathoms in December.

Alewife and bloater chubs dominated all significant catches except those taken during three drags at 15, 20, and 25 fathoms off Waukegan in November. These drags yielded 625, 180, and 270 pounds respectively, of mostly salable size yellow perch. Large chubs made up to seven percent of each catch. Except for smelt which were taken in quantities up to 50 pounds per drag, all other species, collectively amounted to less than five percent of each significant catch.

On the east side of the lake catches were of marginal commercial significance in April and June; catches on the west side, however, were good at some stations during this period. From July through December, all stations fished yielded catches which indicate a definite potential for profitable trawl production of alewife and/or bloater chubs. These held true each time the stations were visited with the possible exception of the Port Washington station in December.

Heaviest concentrations of bloater chubs were usually found in deeper waters than the heaviest concentrations of alewife, although there was considerable intermingling of these species. Best catches of both species were consistently taken from greater depths on the west side in comparison to the east side.

Skog And Day Write Pamphlet On Popple Cutting

A 14-page circular on cutting practices for hardwood and aspen woodlands has been written by two Michigan State University foresters assigned to the Upper Peninsula. The Cooperative Extension Service circular, available at county Extension offices throughout Michigan, was co-authored by Roy Skog of Marquette and M.S.U. Dunbar Forest Experiment Station in Chippewa County.

The publication deals with forest cutting practices for hardwood and aspen (popple) stands as found in the northern third of the Lower Peninsula and in the Upper Peninsula. It is written for the small forest owner who wants to manage his forest land primarily to produce timber. Harvest methods and improvement practices to improve the quality and increase the yield of woodlands are discussed.

The first four pages present definitions and explanations of certain forestry terms and cutting practices. The remainder discusses application of cutting practices to different kinds of forest stands.

Ann Landers*Boy's Help Needed To Aid Mother

Dear Ann Landers: As one of the first editors in America to print your column I have more than a casual interest in it. As a parent I have cheered when I felt your counsel was good. Today I thought your counsel was not good. I refer to your approving of boys helping Mom in the kitchen.

As I see it the central issue is should a boy do male work—carrying out the trash, mowing the lawn, shoveling the snow, and so on? Or should he do female work such as drying the dishes?

Togetherness has been carried to extremes and with disastrous results. Years ago the situation was equally bad with the all-powerful male and the meek female. But the pendulum has swung too far in the opposite direction. If you start boys out in the kitchen they will forever be mama's boys and yes-men to women.

You may think I'm nuts but I wouldn't dream of letting our Johnny help with the dishes, except in an emergency.—C.W.

Dear Editor: Today work knows no gender. During World War II when America was engaged in a production race for survival, women proved that when there is a job to be done it doesn't make any difference who does it.

A boy in the kitchen needn't be a yes man or a mama's boy. He can be a useful member of the family whose willing hands are making lighter work for his mother.

Your statement that you would not dream of letting your Johnny help with the dishes—"except in an emergency"—helps to make my point. If Johnny is kept out of the kitchen to protect his male-ness, he'd be useless in an emergency.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a boy 16. I see by your column that you are not in favor of teenagers holding hands in church. I happen to think holding hands in church is a very good idea, so long as you don't forget why you are in church.

Today I read an article in our newspaper which proves that a certain minister in England is on my side. Apparently a couple of clergymen in London are having a hassle about this subject.

One minister said, "It is a good and natural thing for young people to bring their friendships into God's presence."

What do you have to say now, Ann Landers?—DENNIS

Dear Dennis: I say you're a pretty sharp cookie. But I also read the article in my newspaper and this is what the OTHER clergymen had to say:

I do not approve of too much familiarity among teenagers in church. The way some of them hold hands and flirt back and forth I should not be surprised one day to see them necking in the back pew."

Thank you for writing, Dennis. I hope you will remember why you are in church. And if you keep your Bible-holding hands to yourself, Bob, it will be a lot easier.

Dear Ann Landers: That college fellow who is in a state of depression because he doesn't have a beard, ought to get down on his knees and thank the Lord for his soft, beardless face.

After the first couple of years of marriage my face began to break out in a rash. I tried staying away from certain foods. I changed from a down pillow to a foam rubber pillow. I bought skin lotions and creams. Nothing seemed to help.

Finally, I went to a skin specialist. He matter-of-factly said, "This looks like an irritated condition caused by a man's beard." Well, he was right. My husband's beard has gotten tougher with the passing of time and he was scratching me to pieces.

There's no cure for it. The only alternative is to keep away from him—and I don't want to do that.—MRS. SCAR-FACE

Dear Mrs. Thanks for your story. I hope it will make baby-face feel better.

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, get ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Well-Liked," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

One of the causes is the decreased number of students participating in the program. The hearing screening tests will be made at the school March 4-5.

Heyman Named Player Of Year

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP)—Art Heyman of Duke was named today as the 1963 college basketball player of the year by The Associated Press.

The 6-foot-5 senior from Rockville Centre, N.Y., won the honor as successor to Ohio State's Jerry Lucas on the basis of the votes he polled for the 1963 All-America announced Thursday by the AP.

Heyman, who led Duke through an unbeaten regular season in the Atlantic Coast Conference, topped the voting for the All-America with 744 points on the basis of five points for a first team vote and two for the second team.

Named to the All-America, along with Heyman, were Ron Bonham of Cincinnati, Jerry Harkness of Chicago Loyola, Gary Braddis of Ohio State and Barry Kramer of New York University. Bonham polled 706 points, Harkness 428, Braddis 321 and Kramer 319 from the 183 sportswriters and radio-TV broadcasters who voted.

Bill Bradley, Princeton's star sophomore, Tom Thacker of Cincinnati, Rod Thorn of West Virginia, Cotton Nash of Kentucky and Wali Hazzard of UCLA were named as the second team All-Americans.

Bill Green, of Colorado State University, Eddie Miles of Seattle, Tony Yates of Cincinnati, Jimmy Rayl of Indiana and Nick Werkman of Seton Hall comprise the third team.

Bathgate Joins Scoring Stars

By The Associated Press

Handy Andy Bathgate, the New York Rangers' veteran right winger, has become the 10th player in National Hockey League history to score more than 250 lifetime goals.

The Ranger captain collected three goals Thursday night in triggering New York to a 6-1 victory over the first-place Black Hawks at Chicago.

The hat trick not only accounted for the Rangers' first success over the Hawks in 13 games, but also boosted Bathgate's career goal output to 252. He now had 31 goals for the season.

Two American Ski Stars Must Face Norway Challenge

IRON MOUNTAIN (AP)—The United States' two top riders, who mostly have been dueling one another, will be challenged Saturday by Norway's No. 3 jumper in the North American Ski Championships here.

The Americans are Gene Kotlarek of Duluth and John Balfanz of Minneapolis. The Norwegian is 19-year-old Frithjof Prydz, now a student at University of Utah.

While they are the favorites, a field of 90 is expected to compete in the North American and to renew rivalries Sunday in the Kiwanis Invitational on Pine Mountain, outside this Michigan-Wisconsin border city.

Kotlarek set a new American record of 322 feet in winning the National Championships at Steamboat Springs, Colo., last month.

Deer Reported Healthier Than This Time In '62

Deer in the Escanaba District of the Conservation Department of which embraces Delta and Marquette counties and the west half of Alger are in better condition than they were at this time last winter, reports Joseph Vogt, department game supervisor.

But he says that there's still a month of winter weather left and that heavy snows could still cause a lot of trouble for the deer.

The big difference between this winter and last winter, says Vogt, is the snow. The department's snow gauges show these results at present and a year ago:

	1962	1963
Chatham	3.5'	2.3'
Ensign	2.7'	1.3'

"This makes all the difference in the world for the deer," says Vogt. "They're ranging out of the yards now instead of being confined in scarce feed areas, and even in the yards the lack of snow is important because the deer aren't confined to packed runways, the way they are in deep snow."

"The cold has been much harder on the deer than last winter and the deer eat more to maintain their body temperature, just like cattle. But we've had reports of trouble from only a few spots. In the Kimberly Clark Corp. land deer yard on the west side of the Whitefish River about 9 miles northeast of Rapid River the cutters say the deer look very ragged and act hungry. If there's no cutting for one day they clean up all the tops of the timber cut."

"But most of our checks show conditions good. Even in the St. Jacques area, which was bad in 1962, the deer are alert and running well. The difference there is more cutting on Forest Service lands and less snow. There are quite a few cutters operating south of Northland and they help the deer, but some of them tell us they're going to be buttoned up this week and then we'll have to watch the area. We still have a lot of winter left and the feed from cuttings will be gone."

"Most of our dead deer last winter were found in late March and early April. South Delta hasn't much snow but there's more to the north. We have been sno-catting in the Black Creek area south of Round Lake and found no coyote tracks in areas where deer hunters reported many coyotes."

Michigan Needs 100,000 Jobs

ST. JOSEPH (AP) — Michigan's new job rate is not rapid enough to meet existing demands, the acting director of the Economic Development Department says. Richard Byers explained how many jobs the state needs — and when it must get them — to the annual convention of City and Village Clerks Thursday. Basing his views on an economic report published in 1959 by the Upjohn Institute, Byers said Michigan needs 100,000 new jobs every year through 1970. "Our experience shows four new jobs in industry can generate six other jobs in related fields, in the services, the professions and in education," said Byers, "so if we need 100,000 new jobs a year, 40,000 of them must come from industry."

India Will Seek More Aid In U.S.

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India's minister in charge of defense procurement, T. T. Krishnamachari, plans to visit Washington and London this month to drum up more military aid for his country.

At the end of the first year the C-9 brand was changed so the C was used in reverse. Coppess said the change was made to differentiate between old and new cattle.

Coppess moved to the Upper Peninsula from Lake Odessa where he was engaged in general farming. He came to Garden in order to put some cheap land to work at raising beef cattle.

County Clerk William Butler said that he would have to register the Camp 9 cattle brand in a miscellaneous book because there never has been any need previously for recording the cattle brands.

He said the nearest the county can come to similar situations is an old book stored in the basement of the courthouse which is devoted to the old log marks used by the I. Stephenson, Ford River and Bay de Noc companies and other lumbering firms that used the drivers to drive logs to the sawmills. The book contains about 100 such log markings.

Butler said that in recent years only one log mark has been filed. It was registered by the Arbour Box Co., of Bay View Location which had stored logs near its plant along U. S. 2-41.

Briefly Told

Traffic court summons has been issued by Escanaba police to Thomas F. Boucher, 1613 Stephenson Ave., for disobeying a stop sign.

James Leach, Old State Road, has been charged with failing to keep his dog under control and allowing the animal to run at large in violation of the law. The warrant was issued in municipal court.

Frank Osteroth, 315 C. St., Iron Mountain, had his sports car stolen last night while it was parked in Escanaba. Police said the car was reported abandoned in Iron Mountain. The theft occurred in Escanaba sometime after 3 a. m. today.

Future Homemakers of America of Carney High School will hold clothing collections March 1, 8 and 15, in behalf of needy children and adults in the American Southern Mountain area and elsewhere. The drive is in answer to an appeal from Save the Children Federation.

The Lions Club of Escanaba will meet Monday at 6:45 at the Sherman Hotel. The program has been arranged by Gordon Bean and Norman Arntzen. Ray Crandall, Escanaba Daily Press sports editor, recently returned from the Chicago Golden Gloves tournament, will be the speaker.

The regular monthly meeting of members of Teamster Union, Local 323, will be held Saturday, March 2, at 7:30 P. M. at the Teamster Headquarters, 900 1st Ave. S. The Ladies' Auxiliary will also meet at the same time. All wives of members are urged to attend.

Detroit Group Goes After GOP 1964 Convention

LANSING (AP) — Top Michigan Republicans and one prominent Democrat — the mayor of Detroit — head for Washington this weekend to make Michigan's pitch for the 1964 Republican National Convention.

Gov. George Romney will lead the delegation to the meeting of the GOP's Convention Site Committee which determines where the giant gathering will be held. Six other cities also are bidding. It is expected state GOP officials, including Michigan National Committeeman John Martin and National Committeewoman Mrs. Albert Koeze, both of Grand Rapids; and Detroit spokesmen will do most of the talking.

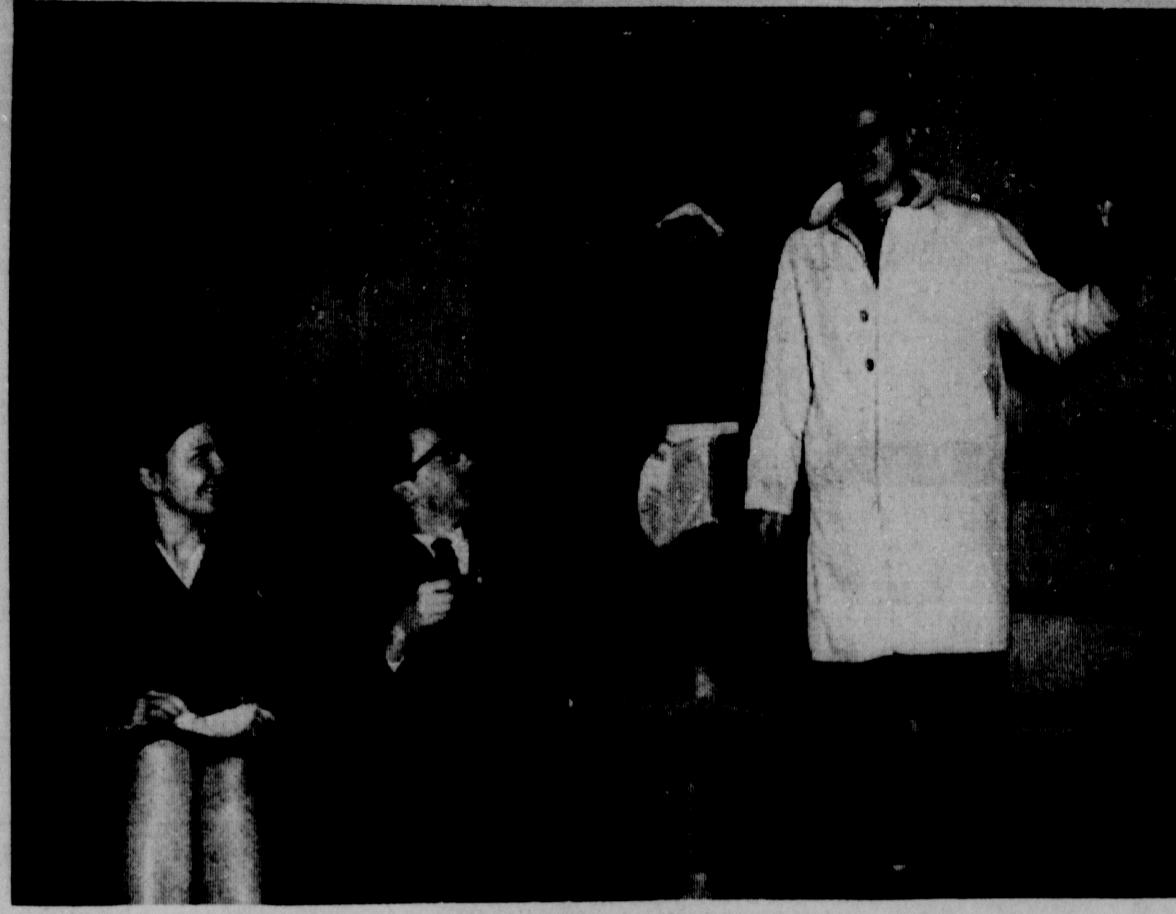

Mayor Jerome Cavanagh, a non-partisan official but a Democrat in party allegiance, will offer Detroit's presentation designed to show the city has adequate convention and hotel facilities.

House Near Vote On ADC-U Bill

LANSING (AP) — A fight over one and possibly two amendments stood today as an obstacle to House approval of a bill qualifying Michigan to take part in the federal Aid to Dependent Children of Unemployed program.

The measure awaited a vote after the House Ways and Means Committee delivered it to the floor with recommendations for passage and immediate effect.

Action on the bill today would require suspension of the House rules which require appropriation measures to be held five days after coming from committee, but

Tough Brooklyn Dock Boss Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Anthony (Tough Tony) Anastasio, 57, dynamic boss of the Brooklyn waterfront who battled other leaders of the Longshoremen's Union as well as dock employers, died today in a Brooklyn hospital.

He was international vice-president of the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association and headed the 15,000-member ILA Local 1814 in Brooklyn.

A family spokesman said death resulted from complications following a heart attack Jan. 2.

A colorful figure, Anthony nevertheless often was overshadowed by two of his headline-making brothers: the late Albert and Joseph Anastasio.

Albert, a reputed power in the Old Murder, Inc. mob, was shot dead as he sat in a barber chair in 1957. Joseph—involved at various times in murder, bookmaking and waterfront thievery—died of natural causes in 1956.

Another brother, Salvatore, is a Roman Catholic priest in the Bronx.

Born in Tropea, Italy, Albert, Joseph and Anthony shipped as deckhands when they were children and jumped ship in the United States separately between 1917 and 1924. They eventually became U. S. citizens.

Anthony had a police record dating back to 1925, with arrests on charges ranging from assault to murder. He was freed of every charge.

Anastasio, a widower, lived in Brooklyn with his daughter and son-in-law, Anthony Scotto, organizational director of Local 1814, and three grandchildren.

College Board Meets Monday

some lawmakers were predicting this might happen.

"The toughest part of the fight is over," one ADC-U supporter said. "With the bi-partisan support it has, it can pass without much trouble."

The Senate has promised to expedite the bill.

Buried three times in Republican-controlled committees in previous sessions, the measure was introduced this year on behalf of Gov. George Romney and is regarded as the first real test of his influence among lawmakers.

The bill would enable Michigan to take part in a federal program which provides benefits to families in which parents of children under 18 are unemployed and have exhausted state jobless payments.

Supporters say local welfare departments would save some $9 million and the state would save nearly $80,000 a year after costs of administering the program. Detroit and Wayne County welfare
